May 30th, 2024 by 5:00pm PST	UCF Urban Forest Expansion and Improvement Grant	Cal Fire	State	March 7th, 2024	Cal Fire's Urban & Community Forestry Program aims to advance the development of sustainable and accessible urban and community forests in California. The purpose of the Urban Forest Expansion and Improvement Grant is to provide funding for projects that will plant trees and vegetation to reduce greenhouse gas (GHG) emissions and improve the functionality of urban forests, arrest the decline of urban forest resources, address climate resilience, reduce urban heat, improve the quality of the environment in urban areas, and optimize co-benefits to urban residents. These projects should focus on urban areas lacking in green space and must meet one or more identified community needs using vegetation. Trees and other funded vegetation must be maintained alive for the duration of their expected life span. Such projects may include planting on private property, parks, and public right-of-way. Projects with higher levels of co-benefits will be preferred. Projects focusing on establishing a long-term tree nursery to increase the availability of seedlings for urban forestry plantings may be eligible; special consideration should be given to climate-ready tree species.	Urban Forestry; Urban Forests; Tree Planting; GHG Reduction; Tree Nursery; Tree Canopy	California	Local government entities, including cities, counties, and qualifying districts; Federally Recognized Tribes operating within California; Tribal-affiliated non-profit 501(c)(3) organizations; Non-profit 501(c)(3) organizations; And, districts including but not limited to school, park, recreation, water, and local taxing districts.	$30.8 M	$150k- $1.5M	No	June-July 2024	https://www.fire.ca.gov/what-we-do/grants/urban-and-community-forestry-grants

The purpose of the Urban Forestry Education and Workforce Development grant is to fund the development and implementation of programs to educate, train, and/or employ the next generation of urban foresters. Projects must provide knowledge, skills, abilities and/or pathways to certifications to assist people in making a career in urban forestry or a related discipline. Projects should provide clear goals and objectives and state how the project will meet an identified community need for urban forestry workforce development. There should be a clear emphasis on serving residents of disadvantaged communities, low-income communities, and/or unemployed individuals, thus funding for program participants is specifically allowed as a cost. A tree planting and maintenance component of the project is recommended, but not required. This can include the long-term development or expansion of new or emerging tree nurseries seeking to grow locally sourced, climate-ready, culturally significant, native, and/or endemic tree species according to best management practices and industry standards, based on identified regional needs. There should be a strong plan in place for planting trees in disadvantaged communities once they meet quality standards. June 28th, 2024 by 6 am PST	GreenLatinos Sustainable Cities Urban Greening Initiative Round 2	GreenLatinos	Private	March 28th, 2024	GreenLatinos' Sustainable Cities and Urban Greening Initiative aims to increase and revitalize green spaces in urban Latino/a/e communities across Los Angeles. This initiative is a program of the broader Greening America's Cities Initiative and is funded by the Bezos Earth Fund. As part of the broader Greening America's Cities initiative, GreenLatinos will collaborate with advocates and organizations in these cities to execute several urban greening projects and support frontline Latino/a/e serving organizations with urban greening funding, advocacy, and network-building. GreenLatinos' initiative aims to enhance green spaces in urban Latino/a/e communities, recognizing the historical disparity in access to such spaces and the vital role they play in community well-being. This initiative will fund projects with developed plans, ready for implementation. Project types may involve creating new urban greenspaces, expanding existing ones, or renovating current greenspaces. January 15th, 2024 by 5pm PST	Technical Assistance Grant	Department of Toxic Substances Control	State	December 20th, 2023	DTSC's Technical Assistance Grant (TAG) Program aims to provide vulnerable California communities with the resources to become active participants, leaders, and advocates in the investigation and cleanup of contaminated sites that affect them. TAG funding enables CBOs, nonprofits, and Tribal entities to hire and direct an independent technical advisor (TA) who can assist in analyzing, interpreting complex environmental information. TAG funding can also be used to encourage public participation by working with TA to increase the community's knowledge about site remedies and the cleanup process. Ultimately, the goal of TAG is to help communities be active participants and leaders in the investigation and cleanup of contaminated properties located in their communities. The TAG Program is part of the $500 million Cleanup in Vulnerable Communities Initiative (CVCI) which aims to advance environmental justice by promoting effective community engagement in cleanup efforts, bolstering economic and community benefits through cleanups, and advancing the cleanup of contaminated sites in vulnerable communities.
